Come Sail into History with Lavinia

Thomaston and surrounding communities are the settings for Irene Drago's latest novel, a seafaring story based on the letters and papers of the Elliott/Dunn sail making families who were leaders in Thomaston's sailing heyday. The story, set between 1865 and 1924, is carefully grounded in historical accuracy as it relates to these two families and their significance. Drago reminds us that history "is, not was" and that we are all surrounded by the efforts of and custodians for the dreams of those who come before us.

Author's Remarks begin at 2 pm followed by refreshments and book signing. Everyone is invited to this free sponsored event.
